Duxbury Police have arrested a suspect following several thefts from a local appliance dealer. Over the last few weeks the department had been contacted several times by South Shore Cabinet on Tremont St. regarding thefts of property from behind their store. On Tuesday night at approximately 7:30 PM Detective Dennis McKenney was conducting surveillance near the store when he saw a black pickup truck drive behind the building. The driver of the truck then attempted to load a washing machine into the back of the truck. Detective McKenney and several patrol officers confronted the man and he was placed under arrest. During the arrest a small quantity of drugs were discovered. David Tewksbury, age 40, of Kingston, will be arraigned this morning in Plymouth District Court on charges of Larceny over $250.00, Trespassing, and possession of Class A and B substances.
